Helping your Business to CONNECT, BELONG, INFLUENCE & SUCCEED
Internationally

Welcome from the International Trade Team

Helping your Business to CONNECT, BELONG, INFLUENCE & SUCCEED

At Surrey Chambers of Commerce, we are committed to supporting business especially those that are trading internationally. Whether you are taking your first steps in expanding overseas, or an experienced exporting business, our International Trade team are on hand to help with advice and support, bringing huge benefits to your business.

As an accredited chamber of the British Chambers of Commerce (BCC), we are able to offer a range of International Trade services to our members, usually at a discounted rates. It is also through this link that we are able to voice the opinions and concerns of our members to the government both in the UK and within Europe.

Our International Trade team currently support over 300 businesses, ranging from micro-businesses to large multi-national corporations, with their export documentation. Last year we processed over 3500 export documents helping these businesses to get £71 million of goods into over 70 overseas markets.

Chamber members receive a discount of up to 50% off their export documentation so not only can we help you to get your goods to your customers overseas whilst avoiding the pit falls of customs compliance, but also help you save money.

As part of a global network with close links with over 40 overseas Chambers of Commerce, we are able to introduce you to these chambers to help your business establish within these countries. We also work closely with organisations including the Department of International Trade, Arab-British Chamber of Commerce, UK Export Finance to name but a few, bringing to you the latest news, information and opportunities available to you.

Membership to Surrey Chambers also benefits your entire business not just the Import/export department. I hope that you look at the prospect of joining our membership but should you have any questions, please feel free to contact us.

We look forward to working with you in future.

Kind Regards

Gary

Marine Insurance

Why is it important to get Marine insurance?

Marine cargo Insurance is the insurance of property as it moves from place to place. Many transits, particularly international ones require two or more types of transport and the Act makes provision for them.

Whilst the word 'marine' conjures up the sea transits, marine insurance departments insure property conveyed by aircraft and road and rail vehicles as well. Under the Marine Insurance Act 1906 (MIA), in its opening sections, it will refer to 'marine losses' and to the 'marine adventure' and to 'maritime perils', and whilst the Act does not specifically mention air travel nor pure land-based transits, it is usual to see a clause in the policy document confirming its authority in all circumstances involving all modes of transit.

So, marine cargo insurance is a class of property insurance that insures property while in transit against loss or damage arising from perils associated with the navigation of the sea or air and subsequent land and inland waterways.

Sutton Winson is one of the UK's leading independent Risk Management and Insurance Specialists.

We pride ourselves on our personal service, getting to know your business and helping you to grow in the ever changing market.

- Commercial insurance including Marine Cargo
- Trade Credit, Excise Bonds, business funding, vehicle finance

- Health & Safety/Risk Management

Special offers for members is available

Intellectual Property

Why is it important to get IP Protection?

Having the right type of intellectual property protection helps you to stop people stealing or copying:

- the names of your products or brands
- your inventions
- the design or look of your products
- things you write, make or produce

Copyright, patents, designs and trade marks are all types of intellectual property protection. You get some types of protection automatically, others you have to apply for.

UK Trademark registration only protects your rights in the UK and are registered on a first come first served basis.

A Community Trademark (EU trademark registration) protects your rights in the 28 member countries of the EU, making the Community Trademark the mark of choice for many businesses who currently trade abroad, or who plan to expand into Europe, and for those with an exit strategy in mind

Unsafe and unreliable products can result in injury, death or damage to property as well as the costs associated with product recalls, compensation claims and the damage to a brand's reputation. To successfully clear customs, Companies trading with these countries need to conform to these requirements. Failure to do so can result in severe delays in goods clearance, penalties or even shipments being returned. Certification provided by Intertek helps you to ensure that importer countries standards are met with smooth customs clearance. Intertek has the expertise of having carried out more product assessments for longer than any other accredited organisation and has issued over 1 million certificates and test reports globally

Intertek Export and Import related programmes in operation include:

- Conformity Assessment
- Pre-Shipment Inspection
- Related Import-Export Services

What is a Certificate of Conformity?

A Certificate of Conformity or inspection certificate states that goods comply with standards laid down by the destination country's authorities in terms of (for example) physical condition, quantity, and technical specification. The goods must be inspected, before shipment, usually at the exporter's premises, by an appointed inspection body. The exporter must pay for this service, and so should ensure that the cost is allowed for in quotations.

What is a Certificate of Free Sale and who issues these certificates?

UK traders, when exporting consumer products to certain markets, are required to provide certification that those products may be lawfully sold in the United Kingdom. To help exporters meet this requirement the Department for Business, Innovation & Skills (BIS) can provide a Certificate of Free Sale (CFS) provided the product is not regulated by another government department. . Other government departments that issue CFS or equivalent documents are Department of the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (DEFRA), the Department of Health (DH) and the Health and Safety Executive (HSE). They are issued free of charge to bona fide UK exporters. A CFS will normally only be issued by BIS for cosmetics, toiletries, detergents, approved disinfectants, domestic cleaners, industrial chemicals, chemical raw materials or food handling materials. They may also be issued for other chemical based products provided they do not fall to the responsibility of another government department. Health certificates, issued by the Department of Food and Rural Affairs (DEFRA), are required for all shipments of agricultural or fresh meat products. Phytosanitary and plant certificates, also issued by DEFRA, are required for exports of planting materials, trees and shrubs, and for certain raw fruits and vegetables.

Do I need a Certificate of Conformity / Certificate of Free Sale?

For some destination countries, a Certificate of Conformity is a legal requirement. In other cases, a Certificate of Conformity is a condition for payment specified in the terms of the Letter of Credit. In countries where a Certificate of Conformity is required, if a shipment does not have one, it is likely to be impounded.

A certificate of Free Sale is a document confirming that the goods in question are freely sold in the country of origin and may be required to allow your products to be freely sold in a new overseas market.
